

‘Seeking innovative solutions to address transnational organised fisheries crime’

FOUNDING DOCUMENT

Vision

PescadOLUS is an independent research and capacity building network which focuses on innovative inter-disciplinary solutions addressing transnational organised fisheries crime.

Mission and objectives

PescadOLUS aims, with a particular emphasis on meeting the needs of developing nations and promoting north-south collaboration, to –

- be a network for researchers and experts on transnational organised fisheries crime
- nurture an environment for the exchange of ideas and producing research on transnational organised fisheries crime
- be a bridge and facilitator for multi-disciplinary research into transnational organised fisheries crime
- support, promote and build capacity in law enforcement agencies to address transnational organised fisheries crime
- provide independent information, expertise and research on transnational organised fisheries crime for civil society and state actors

*****

*Adopted by the PescaDOLUS Steering Committee at Oslo, Norway, 18 June 2014.
Henny Bech, Eve de Coning, Jan Glazewski, Gunnar Stølsvik, Patrick Vrancken and Emma Witbooi*

